

RAMONA YACEF

BIO

Ramona Yacef is a DJ and music producer from Turin, Italy, whose journey into music began at the age of five with classical piano training. What started as a childhood passion quickly evolved into a lifelong dedication to sound, leading her deep into the realms of electronic music, particularly house and techno.

A key player in Italy's underground scene, Ramona rose to prominence through her work with the influential collective We Play The Music We Love. Her growing reputation eventually led her to Paris, where she continued to build her profile with standout performances at iconic clubs like Concrete and Rex Club, as well as internationally renowned venues including Output [New York], Club der Visionaere [Berlin], and Sunwaves Festival [Romania], among others.

Ramona Yacef's discography includes notable collaborations, such as her release on Ruta5 alongside Dandy Jack and Ricardo Villalobos. She is also the founder of Lescale Recordings, a respected label known for its focus on authenticity, sonic depth, and global musical influences rooted in themes of travel and exploration.

Dividing her time between the studio and the stage, Ramona Yacef also holds a residency on Radio Raheem and regularly collaborates with the Crazy Jack collective, continuing to shape and inspire the sound of contemporary electronic music.
