Bio

YELLOW FEVER is a Chilean duo formed by Nara Back (vocals) and Haiti (DJ), merging over two decades of electronic music experience. Their hybrid performance — a powerful fusion of DJ set and live vocals — lights up the dance floor with unmatched energy and distinctive style. They deliver a high-voltage show that blends house and techno with touches of acid, afro, and groove. The live vocal performance elevates the experience, making YELLOW FEVER a must see act on any lineup.

Music

With three independently released singles, Yellow Fever is now working on their debut EP, in collaboration with Dandy Jack, under the Ruta 5 Label.

Career

In just four years, Yellow Fever has performed on some of the most renowned stages, including Piknic Électronik Santiago, DGTL, MUTEK, Sisyphos (Berlin), Club der Visionaere (Berlin), Macarena Club (Barcelona), Movistar Arena, and many more. Between 2023 and 2024, they embarked on two successful European tours, playing a total of 17 shows across Spain, Portugal, Hungary, Germany, and Austria (Vienna), captivating audiences with their vibrant energy and innovative live performances.

DJ Haití

Haití is a Chilean DJ and music producer, and the founder of the band Afrik & the Smiling Orchestra, which has released three albums. His music blends organic native sounds with electronic music, incorporating rhythms deeply rooted in African culture. He has performed in numerous cities around the world, including Berlin (at venues such as Club der Visionaere, Sisyphos, and KaterBlau), Paris, New York, Barcelona, Vienna, Istanbul, Budapest, Portugal, and more. Throughout his career, he has shared the stage with a wide range of artists, including Herbie Hancock, Tricky, Justin Bieber, WhoMadeWho, A Guy Called Gerald, Moderat, Mad Professor, Claptone, Dandy Jack, Sonja Moonear, Dinky, Ricardo Villalobos, Ellen Allien, Pier Bucci, Matias Aguayo, Cypress Hill, and Thievery Corporation, among others. He has also performed at major festivals such as ROTOTOM Festival (Spain), Piknic Électronik, Lollapalooza, Creamfields, Mysteryland, Earthdance, Tomorrowland, DGTL, Mutek, and WOMAD.

Nara Back

Nara Back (South Korea) brings two decades of experience in Chile's music and media scene. Since the age of 14, she has made waves across various musical projects and television platforms, earning recognition for her distinctive style and expressive presence. Since 2006, she has been a core member of the pioneering electro-pop band Lulú Jam, releasing two albums and numerous music videos that have left a lasting mark on a generation. Beyond music, Nara has also been a familiar face on national television — hosting TV shows and appearing in documentaries on various Chilean networks. She has also contributed her talents as a model and presenter in fashion campaigns, runway shows, and audiovisual productions. Today, she brings her voice and creative vision to this new musical project alongside DJ Haití.
